Leah-san, you did well, hm? Let's give it our best following that manner

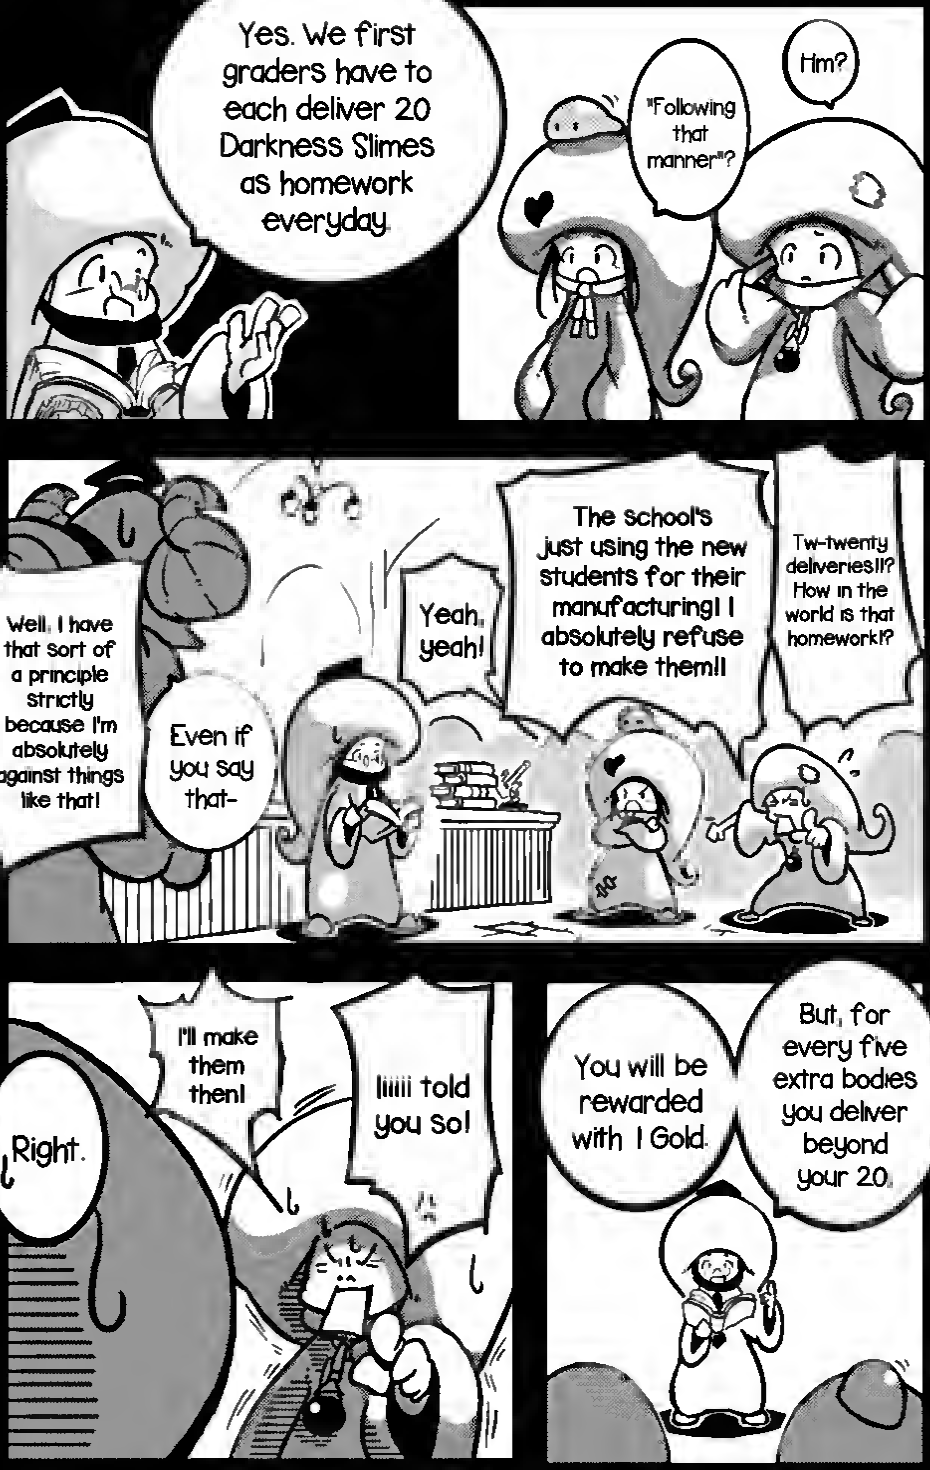
It's so ♪ cute!



Yes. We first graders have to each deliver 20 Darkness Slimes as homework everyday.
Him?
"Following that manner"?
Well, I have that sort of a principle strictly because I'm absolutely against things like that!
Even if you say that-
Yeah, yeah!
The school's just using the new students for their manufacturing! I absolutely refuse to make them!!
Tw-twenty deliveries!!? How in the world is that homework!?
I'll make them then!
Iiiii told you so!
Right.
You will be rewarded with 1 Gold.

Nitori: I picked up this series because it looked kind of cute and had wonderful drawings. It's created for free by an amateur artist who is striving to become a mangaka, so I'm not sure how often it will come out.

If the artist stops releasing or if people don't really like this series, I'll probably end up dropping it. I'll see how things turn out.
